THE LITTLE ENGINE THAT COULD™

BUSY, BUSY DAY

It's a beautiful day, and all the dolls and toys are eager for an adventure. "Will you take us for a ride, Little Blue Engine?" says the clown.

"Hop right on!" says the Little Blue Engine. Then off they go—

Chug, chug, chug up the mountain....

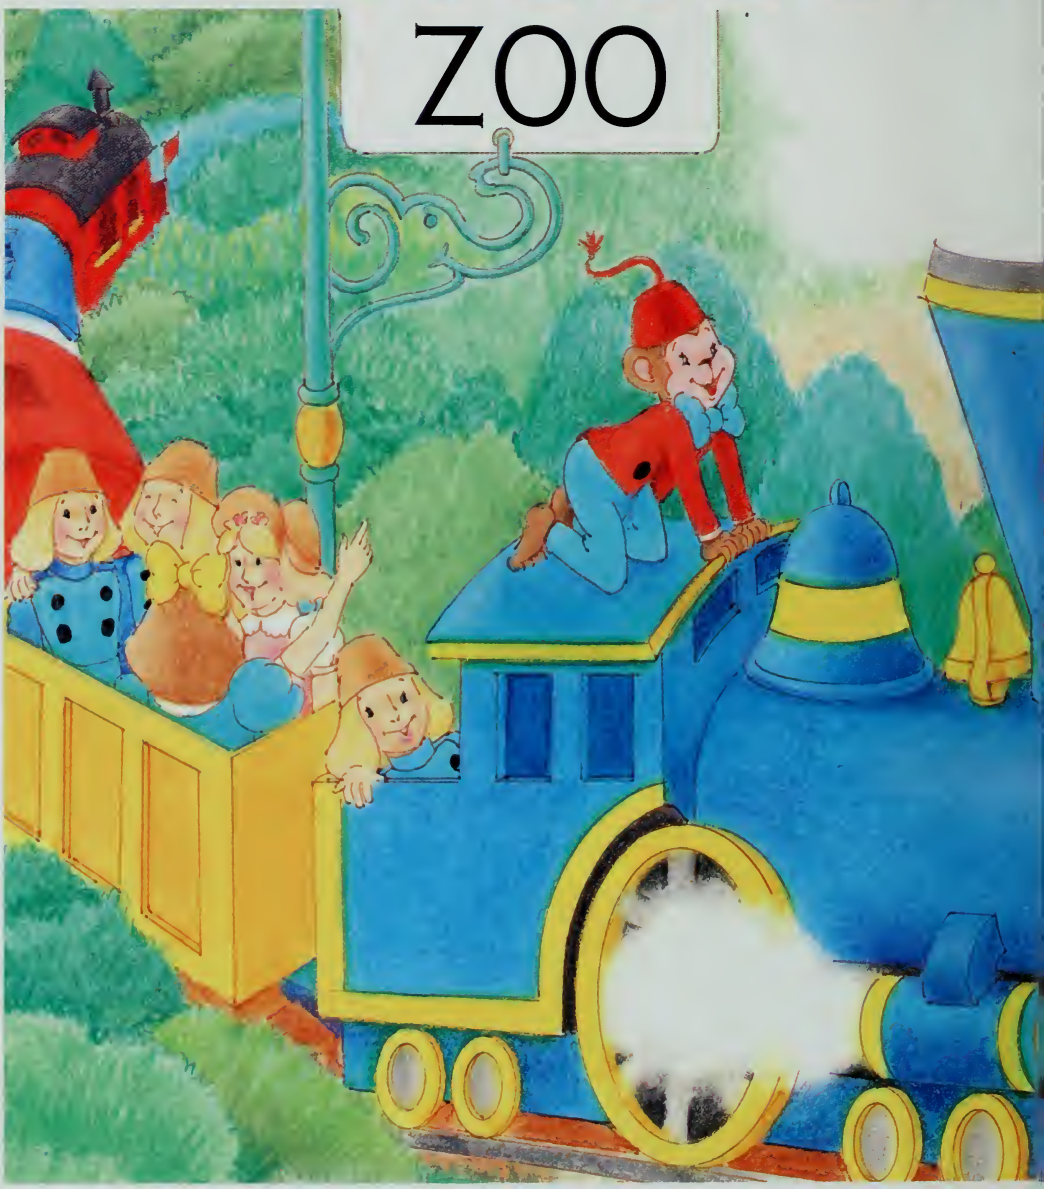
Chug, chug, chug down the mountain.

Soon they come to a farm.

"Moo!" says a cow eating grass on a hill.

"Quack!" say some ducks splashing in a pond.

Chug, chug, chug goes the Little Blue Engine all through the countryside.



After a while they come to the zoo. Look at the elephants taking a bath!

Chug, chug, chug goes the Little Blue Engine, all around the zoo.

Every one buys balloons. Then they take a ride down the track. Chug, chug, chug goes the Little Blue Engine.

Puff, puff, puff. It has been a long day.
She is getting sleepy. But she can't stop now.
She must take her friends home.

All the dolls and toys are sleepy, too.
As the moon and stars come out, they close their eyes.

But not the Little Blue Engine! Back home she goes—chug, chug, chug up the mountain...chug, chug, chug down the mountain—until her friends are safely home. And then what does she do?

Why, then she goes to sleep, of course!

THE LITTLE ENGINE THAT COULD™

BUSY, BUSY DAY

by Wendy Cheyette Lewison

Illustrated by Cristina Ong

Spend the day with the Little Blue Engine as she visits the farm and the zoo.

ISBN 0-448-42064-3

Books-Childrens
arc
$1.49
4 33835 00000 4
Books-Orange -20.206-100112